

RIDE TOWARD HEALTH

Here's a free ride for your COVID-19 vaccine

Getting the vaccine starts with getting to the vaccine. So TheCIL teamed up with Lyft to make sure you have a reliable ride when it's time for your appointment.

Getting started

- 1 Check your vaccine eligibility — you can visit your local department of health's website for the most up-to-date eligibility info. Once you're eligible, make an appointment.
- 2 Download the Lyft app or make sure you have the latest version.
- 3 Find the 'Promos' section in the main menu and tap 'Enter promo code.' Then enter your code.
- 4 Tap 'Apply' to finish. You'll see a notification that the code is valid for your account, and details and limitations about the promo.
- 5 Request your ride and be on your way.

Our Commitment to health

When it comes to the health of our community, we all play an important role. That's why Lyft follows CDC guidance to develop new features and policies that facilitate healthy habits. All riders and drivers are now required to agree to a few simple rules before they can use Lyft. Learn more here.

Please note: Driver tips aren't covered by your credit, and if a ride costs more than your Lyft Pass amount the balance will be charged to your default payment method.
